

13 Settembre 2023

Dipartimento Studi Umanistici
Community Psychology lab Università Federico II
Via Porta di Massa 1- 80133 Napoli

Ore 16.00-19.00

Partecipazione e inclusione nell'era dell'OFFLINE

Chair phd Florencia Gonzalez Leone

Saluti istituzionali

Prof. Andrea Mazzucchi Direttore Dipartimento Studi Umanistici

Prof. Dario Bacchini Direttore Dottorato Mind Gender Language

Introduce professoressa Fortuna Procentese

Relazioni

EMANCIPAR: Engaging Migrants and Communities in Participatory Action Research

Professora Nuria Ciofalo University of Pacifica, Santa Barbara US

L'esperienza di You Count

Partecipazione e inclusione tra studenti universitari

Professora Fortuna Procentese University Federico II, Naples

Discussant

Prof. Sergio Salvatore, Università del Salento

Nuria Ciofalo is Core Professor of the Community, Liberation, Indigenous, and Eco- Psychologies specialization at Pacifica Graduate Institute.

Born in Mexico, she gained her B.A. and first M.A. in Clinical and Social Psychology at the University of Munich, Germany where she specialized in psychoanalytic theories.

Her M.A. in Urban and Regional Planning and Ph.D. in Community Psychology at the University of Hawaii immersed her in the Native Hawaiian sovereignty movement and healing practices.

She has worked with Indigenous communities in Hawaii, Northern, Central, and Southern Mexico for more than 40 years.

She teaches Indigenous psychologies centering Indigenous cosmologies, epistemologies, axiologies, and healing praxes in academic curricula applying participatory action research in partnership with communities.

She has published in the areas of participatory action research with youth and migrant communities, program evaluation, and decolonial, depth, community, and Indigenous psychologies.

Her recent book, Indigenous Psychologies in an Era of Decolonization (2019), was written in partnership with Maya Lacandon youths and community leaders of the Lacandon Rainforest in Chiapas, Mexico.

